 see a plan devised on a liberal scale which would have a tendency to spread systematic ideas through all parts of this rising Empire, thereby to do away local attachments and state

Come, Schoolmates and Friends:

The 1924 CHERRY TREE bids you amble with it into the pleasant memories of the year at GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY, for such has been its year's effort.

If the 1924 Cherry Tree can bring some bright recollection or happy smile to you as you turn its pages, it is the content that it has contributed at least something to our Alma Mater's glory.

Shall we proceed through the pages of yesterday?

THE STORY

THE 1924 CHERRY TREE presents in this volume, a humble effort of picturing, both in prose and by illustration, a chronicle of 1923-24 at George Washington.

At the very beginning, we were endowed by the coming to our University of a man in the person of William Mather Lewis, one whom Sir Roger de Coverly would have called "A man of fine parts." He was inaugurated the Eleventh President of the University on November 7th, 1923.

The University opened its doors on September 26th, with the largest registration in its history. Concurrent with the opening of school came the "rushing" season, when one fraternity vied with another in smokers and dances—with the object of impressing the unsophisticated and prospective pledges.

These activities had hardly subsided when the political campaigns came to the fore. George Washington has never lacked its full quota of politicians, and political aspirants. The class and fall elections together with numerous caucuses seem to be one of the vitals of the University Campus life.

On October 11th, an innovation was established, known as the Annual Roll Call, to which the undergraduates in the various schools and colleges of the University responded in the most encouraging manner and made certain the fact that the college spirit and student enthusiasm was not lacking in this urban University. The members of the various classes and schools assembled under their banners on the Eclipse under the shade of the Washington Monument, to greet the new President of the University. He was introduced to the Undergraduate Body by the retiring President, now Dean of the University, Howard L. Hodgkins, and was greeted by representatives of the Faculty, and by Edward L. Scheufler, in behalf of the Undergraduates. An amusing instance, was the driving up to the platform of General George Washington and Martha Washington, in a "coach and four" of the olden times. They presented to President-Elect Lewis, the key to the University and to the hearts of the Undergraduates. A monster parade was then formed, which marched down Pennsylvania Avenue and back to the University where it disbanded.

On other pages in the CHERRY TREE will be found the stories of the Football and Basketball seasons. Too much credit cannot be given to these organizations, for the handicaps under which they trained. It must be remembered that a large majority of the players work in the Government offices during the day and had to take time off on their annual leave in order to report for practice on make-shift fields and courts.

The first social event of the season after the Hallowe'en dances, given by the various Fraternities and Sororities, was the Pi Phi Thanksgiving dance, which is always well attended, and which was this year simply packed.

On October 6th, George Washington held its international debate against Oxford University of England in the Continental Memorial Hall. This was a distinctive honor for our University to be selected as the American Representative to meet and debate the British team. The manner of preparation, research and delivery of the team, which gave them the decision over our British cousins, cannot be too highly complimented.

We greeted and welcomed to the University the "Frosh" Orchestra and the University Chorus.

The Interfraternity Council has ended the most successful and impressive season in its history. The delegates were extremely active this year and conducted many successful affairs. The most prominent of which was the Interfraternity Smoker, held on November 28th, under the chairmanship of Ed. Bettelheim; and the Interfraternity Prom, which was held on March 21st, under the stewardship of Clayton Langer, and Ed. Bettelheim. Dave Laux, as chairman of the Athletic Committee, received a great deal of praise for the success of the Interfraternity Basket-ball, Bowling and Basball tournaments.

Probably the most strenuously contested event, was the play-off for the Basket-ball title between Theta Delta Chi, and Phi Sigma Kappa, which was won by the former. The Interfraternity Council, each year, awards trophies for the scholarship, bowling, basketball, relay and baseball. Undoubtedly the success of the Interfraternity Council this season is due to the able leadership of Lester Johnson. Lester's good judgement, even disposition, appreciation for the work done by his assistants, made him an able leader.

On November 23rd, the Y. W. C. A., repeated their last year's successful Carnival and Circus. The whole affair was well gotten up and the side shows, the booths, etc., were typically unique.

Possibly the outstanding feature of the Undergraduate's interest in their Alma Mater, was their activities in behalf of the Endowment Drive. The Student Drive was under the Chairmanship of Henry James, assisted by Ed. Scheufler, Betty Booth, Wilfred Pryor, Hazen Bond, Frances Randolph, Helen Hanford, Sarah French Smith, Mary Louise Lemon, Mildred Murray, Fred Youngmen and Dorothy Bartley. Frances Randolph won the cup presented by the Sphinx Honor Society, and Sigma Phi Epsilon won the cup presented by the Pyramid Honor Society. Over $70,000.00 was subscribed by the Students.

In the field of athletics, the outstanding feature was our championship Rifle Teams; both the men and the girls. Both Hatchetite teams won the Intercollegiate championships. In the field of sport, George Washington was well represented. Football, basket-ball, mens' rifle, mens' tennis, girls' rifle, girls' hockey, girls' basket-ball, track, girls' tennis, and both men and girls swimming.

Impetus in athletic activities was added and fostered under the tutelage of the "G. W." Club, the honorary organization made up of the athletic "Letter" men of the University. The guiding spirit of this organization was Hillory Tolson, its President. The "G. W." Club, this year has inaugurated the Interclass Athletic Meet, which was a pronounced success.

After the usual Fraternity dances and Sorority teas, and the New Year Eve dances with open houses, the social life took its place in the foreground on February 2nd, when the Undergraduates, Alumnae and Faculty of the Law School held their annual Law Banquet at the Ebbitt. The banquet was full of pep and cemented the good feeling that exists between the Faculty and the Undergraduate Body.

Junior Week next occupied the minds of all. The most important event, of course, was the Junior Prom, held in the grand Ballroom of the Willard Hotel, under the Chairmanship of Leonard McCarty; all the activities of Junior Week being under the General Chairmanship of Herbert H. Mitchell. The Prom, which was held on February 19th, was followed a few days later by the Junior Reception on Washington's Birthday, which always shapes itself into a tea dance.

The CHERRY TREE takes occasion to commend the activities of Dean William Cabell Van Vleck, who with his associates, went to the meeting of the American Association of Law Schools in Chicago, and through his efforts and persistence, brought back word to the University that George Washington was accorded full membership in the Association and was rated in the "A" grade of Law Schools.

Debating has always been one of the prominent activities in the University and besides having well representative debating teams of both men and women, who meet the best intercollegiate debaters, the interest is not lacking within the University itself. The Columbian Debatin Society holds well conducted debates each Friday evening during the scholastic year, and the Enosinian Society adds its quota to this activity.

In the field of publication the University is represented in the annual by the CHERRY TREE, and weekly by the UNIVERSITY HATCHET. Bob McNeil is to be complimented for the success of this year's HATCHET.

The Panhellenic Council, which governs and controls the activities among the Sororities, is no unimportant factor on the campus. It controls all pledging activities. The "Panhellenic Prom" is also one of the outstanding social events of the year.

The year of 1923-24 will close its season with the Law Junior Endowment Dance, the Senior Week and the Senior Prom including the Union Vaudeville and then the Convocation.

THE FACULTY OF THE LAW SCHOOL

In the front and center is Dean Van Vleck through whose efforts and perseverance the G. W. Law School has been accorded the rating in the "A" Grade group by the Association of American Law Schools and the American Bar Association.

At his right stands Dear Old Daddy Earnest who has endeared himself into the hearts of all. He is one of the cherished memories of the School. Next to him stands Charles Collier. One can tell from his broad smile that he is just bubbling over with wit. At the extreme right is Colonel Clephane, who like Daddy Earnest commands the respect and admiration of all.

On the right of the second row is Professor Updegraff, known best to the undergraduates as "Upey." He can be called upon at any time by students to help brighten up social affairs. Professor Alden is the sponsor of the girl debaters. Professor Edgerton came to G. W. at the same time that the present graduating class entered Law School. We met him in Legal Liability and leave him in Corporations. Frank Smith is your mainstay to get by the Bar. Follow him and get through. Gilbert Hall, an alumnus of the School. He is a member of most of the governing bodies and actively interested in student activities.

Brother Arnold a jovial fellow, deeply interested in all activities of the students. A hale fellow, well met and popular with the ladies. Edwin C. Bradenburg is another of our senior professors.

Judge Latimer is the dignified gentleman who presides on the Bench in Moot Court and puts you through the paces. Then next to the Dean is "Pop" Evans who also is a close follower of student affairs, with a heart of gold.

The Student Council was organized in 1916 first to stimulate interest and participation in student activities and second to act in an advisory and supervisory capacity with regard to these activities. The Council selects the Editors and Managers of the several publications as well as the Managers of the various terms.

The membership of the Council is elected from among the student body of the University in proportion to the enrollment of the several colleges there being three elected from both the Columbian College and the Law School, two from both the Medical and Engineering Schools and one each from the School of Graduate Studies, The School of Pharmacy and the Teacher's College.

THE LAW SCHOOL SENATE

The growth and expansion of the Law School developed the need for a separate governing body of this department of the University, and to meet this need the Law School Senate was created. It is composed of a member of the faculty, an alumnus and three members from each class.

The Student Senators for the Third and Second Year classes are elected at the end of the scholastic year by the Second and First Year students for the succeeding year, while the Freshmen Senators are elected at the beginning of the term for the current year.

The Medical School had a unique position of being located in the University with one school and one campus. Of the students in the Medical School, 13,000, including 11,500 were reported by L. H. Every signature had been secured and all the pledges turned in by Chairman French before the close of the student campaign.

Columbia College, with the largest enrollment of any school in the University, raised the largest amount. According to the latest report, the amounts subscribed through the various schools are as follows: Columbia College and Teachers' College together, $29,767; Law School, $15,327; Medical School, $12,118; Engineering

The largest individual contribution turned in by an undergraduate student was the pledge for $500 made by W. R. Kling, a member of the Freshman Class of the Law School. There were also pledges turned in from several new students entering the University who had not yet registered at the time the campaign started.

THE FOUNDING OF A UNIVERSITY

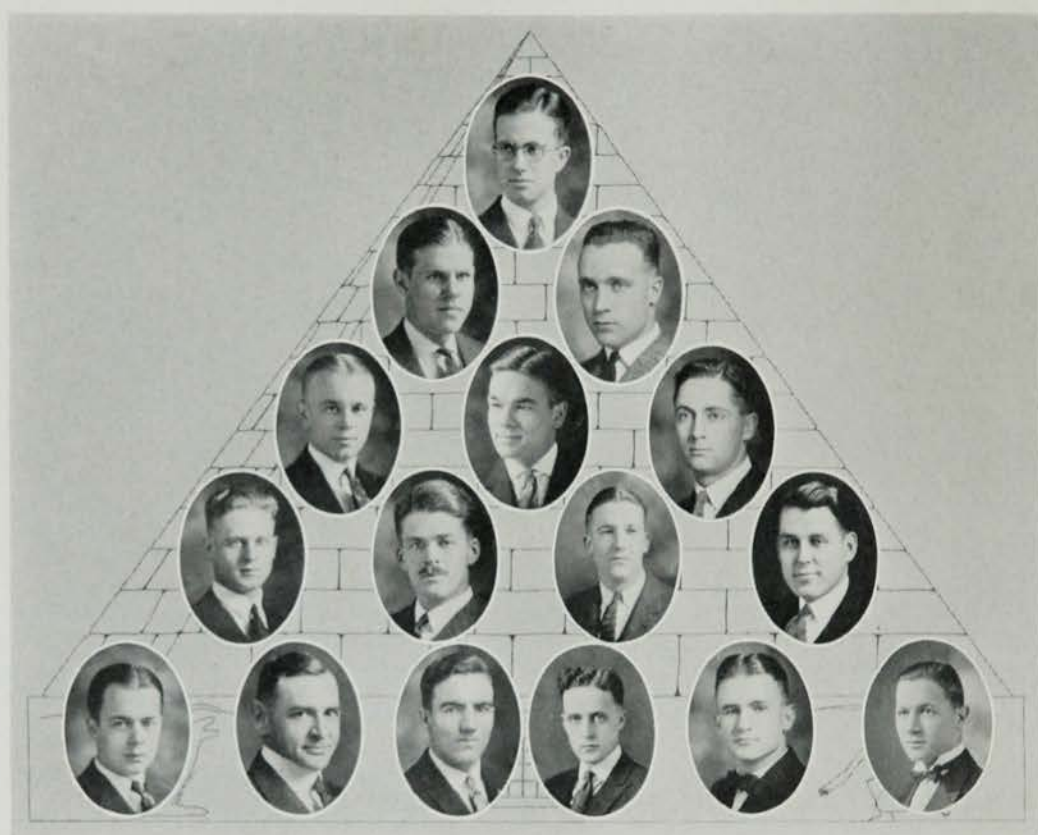

EORGE WASHINGTON long cherished the hope of founding a University in the Nation's Capital for "the assimilation of the principles, opinions, and manners of our Countrymen, by the common education of a portion of our youth from every quarter." He carried this thought to his grave and as a heritage he left it as a thought to posterity. On page 6 there is shown a facsimile of a page of his will the original of which is in possession of the authority on Fairfax County, Virginia. In this will Washington bequeathed $22,000 worth of shares in Canal stock towards the founding of such an institution.

Presidents Adams, Jefferson, Madison, and Monroe worked towards this end. Finally on February 9th, 1821 President James Monroe approved an act of Congress granting the charter to Columbian College, the mother school of George Washington University. The first commencement exercises were held December 1, 1824. Today the University consists of Columbian College, the Graduate School, Teachers' College, the Law School, Medical College, Engineering College, the School of Pharmacy, and the College of Nurses.

FOOTBALL 1923

Captain "Jimmy" Ptak

ON September 18th, 1923, the G-W Football Squad trotted forth on the field, down near the bathing beach, the only available place, for its first work out. The team looked promising. Several of the old timers were back, and there was plenty of pep and spirit in the new men. The men worked hard. Too much credit can not be given to them. Practically everyone of them worked in government bureaus, and gave up much of their annual leave so as to be out to practice. Practice facilities were far from adequate for even a high school team. The dressing quarters were lockers of the bathing beach pavilion. Rubbing tables, if any, were floor or an old bench. Such were the conditions under which our team labored, with spirit undaunted to the end. They worked late into the evenings, toiling under the charge of Coach Bill Quigley assisted by Untz Brewer.

The Big day at last came. The first contest of the season was with our biggest rival, Georgetown. The game was played on Georgetown's home grounds and the score of 20-0 tells of the grind that both teams were under. The Hilltoppers were in training weeks before our boys and had all of the up-to-date training facilities and outweighed the G-W men ten pounds to a man.

The team then seemed destined to troubles and misfortunes. Captain Mulligan was unable to return to school, so "Jimmy" Ptak was reelected captain, and played his usually heady game at left end. However during the Johns Hopkins game he wrenched his knee which sent him to the hospital for several weeks.

During the first game Pryor, our fullback broke his collar bone and was forced out the playing until all but the last two games. This was a great loss. In the Dela-coach was quick to note this and sent in a whole new string of heavy line hitters and our line crumbled under the strain.

The strain of the play during the Marine game began to tell upon the men. The game at St. Joseph should have been ours, but the team seemed to have lost its stammer, and so went 7-13 against us.

The team seemed to have been handed a "Knock-out" on Armistice Day at Roanoke by score of 33-0 in favor of Roanoke. The odd feature of this game was that our team completed 25 forward passes out of 30 tries. It is unusual for ware game, "Snooks" Leeby broke his leg and another man of the line was taken from the team. Although "Snooks" lost the use of his leg for the rest of the season, he was on hand in a wheel chair and with his broad smile.

Through that streak of misfortune, which no one can account for, the Western Maryland game was lost. The men could not seem to find themselves on Maryland's field.

Then the Hatchetites executed a "comeback" by winning the next two games, from Juniata and Drexel respectively, both were won valiantly.

The Hatchetites tried to stage a comeback at Delaware, however Leeby received a broken leg in this game and caused a substitute to play the very important position of center. Dave Laux scored the touchdown for G-W in this game.

From then on the team lost heart, their spirit had been crushed. It was not bad enough to lose members of the team by accident, but the blow fell in the Johns Hopkins game, when "Jimmy" Ptak was added to the list of the casualties. With their Captain gone the men just drudged along.

GEORGE WASHINGTON Basket-ball team began its varsity season with prospects of a varsity team returning. As the season progressed Coach John Daly, had to select his team from new material.

Under the tutelage of Daly, a former G. W. player, the team gave at times evidence of brilliant team work and demonstrated effectively how the short passing game could be played.

Meeting a new rival in the University of Maryland on the Coliseum floor, the team displayed its fighting ability by being on the long end of a 20-19 score.

This season has demonstrated quite clearly the need for a gymnasium that can be used for practises and games. The present arrangements, although the best that could be secured, were inadequate, and almost obnoxious and on many occasions the team was without a floor for practise.

Next year's team having the benefit of playing a new style of game together with every one returning, except one, should also have the benefit of being able to play on a home floor of the University without any interruption. Aided by such a condition the Varsity team would place George Washington University in its proper place in South Atlantic Basket-ball circles.

Captain "Zeke" Klopsch and "Red" Woerner held down the forward positions in an effective manner. They were assisted by a new pair of forwards in E. B. Wagner and "Jeff" Davis. Francis W. Brown, regular pivot man and "Art" Nichols outjumped their opponents in most of the games. The team was well fortified in the guard positions, "Mike" Dowd, a speedy dribbler, and George Reynolds stopped many a rally under their own goal. "Bob" Newby and Arnold Neviaser brought to the team reserve strength that was well used.

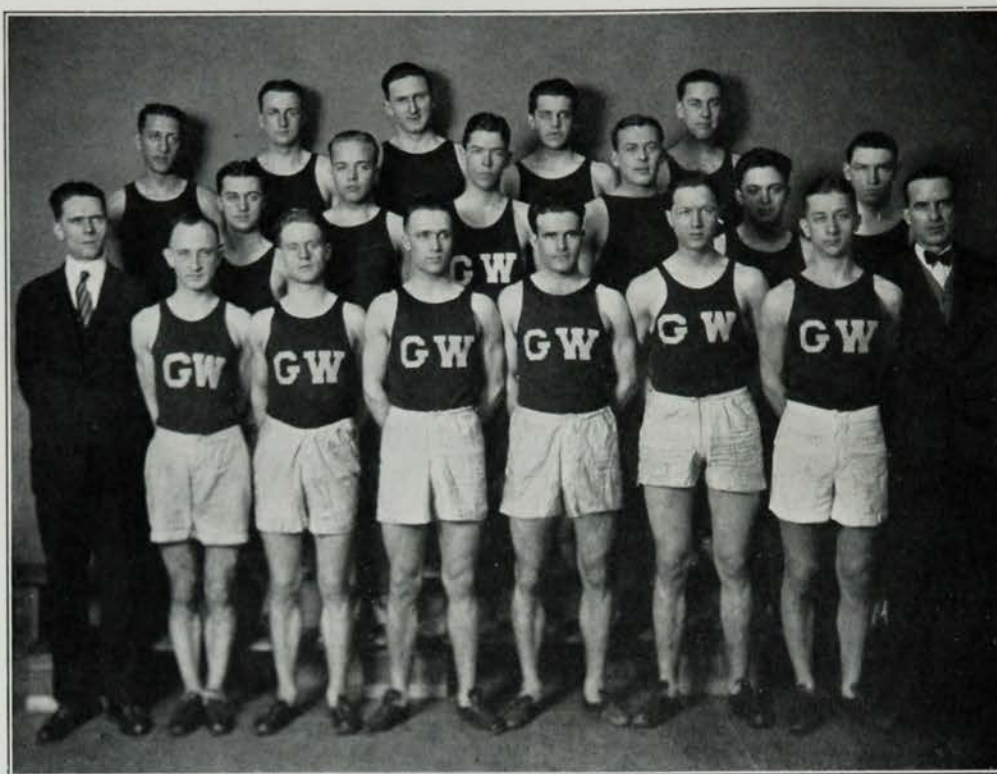

The team under the management of Lester W. Johnson played 12 games including 3 trips. Assistant-Managers for the season were Wyckliffe Woodard and William Camel.

M. J. Goldberg and Lawrence K. Hyde deserved well earned recognition for assistance they gave in playing in the games.

"G. W." Letters were awarded to Otto C. Klopsch, Francis W. Brown, Carl G. Woerner, Frank Dowd, George W. Reynolds, Arnold K. Neviaser, Robert Newby, Arthur Nichols, E. B. Wagner, James Y. Davis, Lester W. Johnson.

The Penn Relay Carnival follows on April 25-26 in which a G. W. relay team composed of the four fastest quarter-milers, will participate. The dual meet with Juniata on May 3 is next and altho very little is known about Juniata's track prowess it is certain that G. W. will show its claim to the winning score.

The Richmond Invitation Meet on May 9-10 takes the place of the former S. A. I. A. A. Meet. Knowing from experience already this year what good sports the Richmond track men are, this meet should prove a hugh success. The last meet on the schedule is the second annual dual meet with Gallaudet. Altho Gallaudet won last year, the G. W. team is going to show the Kendal Greeners what a comeback means.

President Lewis has promised an athletic field for next year, and when that is secured watch the track team show what it can do.

NDER Coach Probey's instructions the track team had a most encouraging indoor season this year. At the Georgetown Relay Carnival, February 21, which was the most successful indoor meet the Hilltoppers have staged, the G. W. team did well. Peake, Grass, Tolson and Simmons ran on the one mile relay team matched with Richmond University, losing by 15 yards, the amount of the loss being due mainly to the fact that Richmond used spiked shoes, while G. W. did not. The time was 3:37 1/5. In the half mile open, Laux finished fifth and Koster finished well up. In the 600 yard novice, Ludwig also did well. Rutley won his heat in the 50 yard dash, but failed to place in the finals against some of the fastest dash men in the country.

At the Hopkins Indoor Meet, February 23, the G. W. relay team was matched in a one mile relay

RIFLE TEAM

Walter R. Stokes,
Captain

HE Varsity Rifle Team of this year was of real championship caliber.

Walter R. Stokes, Captain, and leader in rifle activities at George Washington, soon after school commenced, called together a squad composed of all of last year's exceptionally strong team and several newcomers. The experienced men were: George A. Anadale, James M. Barry, William S. Detwiler, H. Clay Espey, Hugh Everett, Jr., Alvin G. McNish, Thaddeus A. Riley, Baxter Smith, and Gerald R. Trimble. Eric McGee Newcomb came to us from Cornell where he shot for two years. Frank T. Parsons, Jr., last year's Washington Eastern High Captain, and F. N. Strawbridge, Washington Tech High, also joined the squad.

Indoor practice was held on the Marine Barracks gallery and outdoor shooting was done at the National Guard Range, Camp Sims, Congress Heights, D. C.

On January 19, teams from eleven institutions gathered in New York for the Northeastern Intercollegiate Gallery Championship Match, which was the greatest collegiate rifle event of the kind ever staged. It was a great forward step in intercollegiate marksmanship, and G. W. had a big part in it—the winning part.

George Washington have taken the lead in arranging a match for the championship of the Association of Urban Universities, of which it is a member. The responses indicate that it can be made a big annual event, although only a few teams participated this year, due to previously filled schedules.

The biggest match of the collegiate year, the Eastern Intercollegiate Service Rifle Match, at the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Maryland, was scheduled for May 17. For the past two years the Varsity finished in second place, between the Naval Academy's first and second teams. The Academy had never been defeated by any college, but our boys went out this year to turn the trick. Last year eight collegiate teams were entered, and this year many more were expected.

This season of rifle shooting has seen much general advancement of the sport at G. W. and elsewhere, and there is no doubt that, when the proposed range in the new building of the University is opened next fall, we shall still further improve.

The position of our Alma Mater in the rifle game is largely due to the interest and ability of Walter R. Stokes. His leadership, brains, and sense have built and kept together our teams.

HE Tennis Team for 1923 had a very successful season. The G.W. team very decisively defeated Catholic University, Johns Hopkins University and University of Delaware, and were only beaten by a narrow margin by the strong teams of Swarthmore and Lehigh. The Columbia team, which was the strongest team in the country last year, was too strong for our men.

Joseph Van Ende won the singles championship of the Middle Atlantic Inter-Collegiate Association which was held at Richmond and with Otto Z. Klopsch, reached the finals by a close margin.

The schedule for 1924 includes many of the teams previously played. The prospects are favorable for a strong team, although Van Ende's playing will be missed this year.

FIRST ANNUAL INTER-CLASS GAMES

(Under auspices "G. W." Club)

THE Class of 1924 won the first annual inter-class track and field meet held April 19, 1924, with a score of 99 points. This victory carried with it the possession for one year of the Lewis A. Fischer memorial trophy. The Junior and Sophomore classes tried for second honors each scoring 37 points, while the Freshman brought up the rear with 22 points.

Captain Hillory A. Tolson of the Senior track team won the Thomas F. Probey point trophy with a score of 23 points. Beatrice Woodford carried off the honors in the Women's events with a score of 19 points and was awarded the Bryan Morse point trophy.

The Inter-Fraternity relay championship was captured by Sigma Alpha Epsilon while the Inter-Sorority relay championship was won by Chi Omega.

The initial step of holding an Inter-Class Games at George Washington University was enthusiastically received and there was competition in practically every event. It is believed that the "G. W." Club, which is composed of the letter men of the University should be highly commended for adding one more feature to the campus life at George Washington.

GIRLS' BASKET-BALL

"Bea" Woodford,
Captain

GIRLS' Basket-ball takes the leading place on the athletic program of Girls' activities for the season 1923-24. More than fifty girls answered the call of the first basket-ball meeting November 10. The high caliber of these girls, including several letter girls of last season, assured the successful season from the start.

After hard and constant practice, Imogene Stockett, coach, rounded her girls into form to commence an excellent schedule which had been arranged by Manager Daly. The Central High School gym was secured thru the courtesy of the Community Center, for practice.

Several games were played as double headers with the men's games, but most of the games were played on our own floor. The team took two trips this year, a northern and a southern. On the trip south, the team played William and Mary and West Hampton. On the trip north the team played Temple, Swarthmore, and the University of Pennsylvania.

The Girl's Varsity has the distinction of innovating a new uniform into Girl's Basket-ball. It is the more sensible straight trunks and the loose jersey. On both trips and in every game favorable comments were heard. It is the hope of the team that all girl's teams will take advantage of this step.

In a word Girl's Basket-ball has just completed the most successful season of its career and is looking forward to next season, when the new gym will be available.

Last year our newly organized girls' rifle team met with remarkable success, emerging from a hard schedule with a clean record of victory over every opponent, a feat which earned major letters for the sport in its first season.

During the present season the team has continued to win every match with the scores closely approaching the "possible."

Next year with a splendid rifle range in the new building, girls' rifle shooting should expand, and increase its success in every way.

GIRLS' TENNIS

HE Girls' Tennis Team is rapidly coming to the front as one of the foremost of our many athletic groups. This year marks the second year that the team has entered into intercollegiate competition. It is also the first year that an out of town trip has been planned.

At the fall tournament last year, Frances Walker was the winner and holds first place on the team this year. A silver cup, presented by the Columbian Women is the trophy presented each year to the winner of the tournament.

The out of town games will be played during the week beginning May 5. Social schools will be played after that trip and possibly a return game with William and Mary.

The girls selected to compose the team, tho some may be unseated by the time the sport gets under way, are:

THE OXFORD DEBATE

THE First International Debate held in the Capital of the United States was won by The George Washington University, represented by Washington Irving Cleveland, Edward L. Scheufler, and Phillip E. Barnard. Oxford University of England was most ably represented by her best forensic champions, J. D. Woodruff, G. A. Gardiner and C. H. O. Scaife, who were officers of the Oxford Union by virtue of their excellence in public speaking. The G-W men are members of Delta Sigma Rho Honorary Debating fraternity.

The debate which was held October 6, 1923 at the beautiful and historical Memorial Continental Hall was on the resolution.

"That the action of France in occupying the Ruhr merits the approval of the House."

George Washington successfully supported the resolution and won the overwhelming approval of the most cosmopolitan and distinguished audience that ever witnessed an inter-collegiate debate. Every foreign legation, many public personages of note and press representatives were among the audience. President William Mather Lewis was the chairman.

The debate attracted widespread public interest because it was at the time that the whole world looked toward the Ruhr Valley with anxious eyes, watching the varied moves on the checker-board of international diplomacy.

HE George Washington Players, has for many years represented the dramatic interest of the University. Its membership is open to all regularly enrolled students.

The work for this year has been the understanding of and practice with the one-act play, as it is being developed in the Little Theater throughout the country. One-act plays are presented at each of the regular monthly meetings. Those presented so far have been "Moonshine," (directed by Kermit Girdner), and played by Meador Wright and Douglas Hartman; "A Matter of Husbands," by Franz Molnar, and played by Pearl Last and Corinne Frazer; "A Railroad Adventure," by Franz Molnar, (directed by Marian Campbell) and played by Marceline Gray and George Garett. The play was given a second time in Chapel, Friday, March 7.

On December 14, 1923, the annual Christmas productions of the players were presented, in Lisner Hall. They included "Loving George," (directed by Professor W. Nothrup Morse), played by John R. De Witt, S. Richard Mook, and Louise Espey; "Three Pills in a Bottle," by Rachael Field, (directed by M. Eugenie Ambrosi), played by Ethel Wright, Freida Ring, John Newell, Merritt Greely, Euphemia Fisdick, Lydia Shepard, Edward Everett and Lyle Ohlander; and "A Ghost of a Chance," (written and directed by Beatrice Henning), played by Leon Chagnon, Elsie Talbert, Marian Casey, Louis Seibold, Ann Wrightson and Douglas Hartman.

The "players" are forced to work under practically every handicap possible, in the way of proper facilities and properties. The only place about the University in which plays can be presented is the chapel, which is a poor substitute for a theater.

ANNUAL LAW BANQUET

Held at the Ebbitt House
Saturday Evening, February 2nd, 1924

It is the annual gathering of the Undergraduates of the Law School the Alumni and the faculty on a common ground to break bread and make merry and to foster the good will that exists between students and faculty, which is so peculiar and dear to George Washington.

It is held under the auspices of the Law Senate.

The Banquet was followed by general dancing.

A BRIEF TO A BRIEF CASE.

(Tune: Old Oaken Bucket)

How self satisfying—to carry a brief case,
No matter how empty the poor thing may be;
Sometimes it is heavy,
Sometimes it holds nothing,
No matter how useless, it's always with me.
It carries my books, or it carries my papers;
It carries my lunch, or it carries "The Star";
It carries the knowledge I gather in law school;
It carries my letter from near and from far.
My faithful old brain bag,
My all-time companion;
My leather-bound brief case,
That's always with me.
At 6.45 when the class begins hedging,
And hopes that soon Henry will ring the last bell;
My brief case comes forth
From the place where it's hiding.
And soon classroom order is shot all to—well
It slams on the table, I jingle the buckles
I tuck both my pencils secure in its fold;

The Prof seems to wonder, but soon he discovers
It's time to dismiss us without being told
My handy old brief case,
I can't do without it,
My leather-bound brief case,
I carry to school.
Some day I may prosper, may even be famous,
Perhaps may become a professor of law;
But where'er I wander
In sunshine or sorrow,
My professional brief case will cling to me still,
And when before Peter, the Court of last recourse,
I'm summoned to answer a rule to show cause
You'll find in my right hand, just as you expected,
That same dear old brief case, still filled with the laws.
My own battered brief case,
My hope of salvation,
My faithful old brain bag,
Of many, 'tis one.

THE VARSITY SONG

The Old Buff and Blue

(Tune—"Believe Me, if all those Endearing Young Charms.")

Dear old school of our youth which we hold in our hearts
Treasured place of our lives' dawning days
Though the hard years of toil long have held us apart
Thou art with us in mem'rys sweet haze.
Time can ne'er take away thy dear guiding hand
Till we look upon heav'ns golden hue
Courage gained in thy halls bear us on through the land
Ever loving the old Buff and Blue.

Youth and beauty and strength now oft seen in thy halls
Soon will turn to the old and the gray.
Time relentless is e'er pressing steadily on
Toward the dawn of the eternal day,
But we offer our lives to thee, school, ever young
Though the centuries pass o'er thy door.
We will give of our best that thy praise may be sung
In the future till time is no more.

Somethin' Needed

Will Hold Another Meeting Soon

PRESIDENT RETRACTS

"Bunn" Tolson, President of the "G. W." Club, Senior Class, and numerous other activities, announces that he has retracted the course at Central High School Stadium, so as to make it suitable for the annual Interclass Track Meet. He has secured the services of Surveyor James, and has started Stanley tracing the athletic features. He is the one man who has been able to boss Ed. Bettelheim and get away with it. He is the "G. W." Club and can prove it.

GREEKS GET TOGETHER

We understand from reliable sources that the Greeks are getting together. There are eleven members, including ten casualties. Meetings are interesting and agreements are had in full accord, as each delegate goes back to his respective chapter and tells it to do just as it pleases. Athletic tournaments are run off precisely, so as to be delayed not less than four weeks.

Careful attention is always given to Scholarship Cups, as evidenced by the fact that the Committee takes two years to render a decision.

The meetings are called to order at 11 A. M. on certain Sundays, if he gets there, he generally does, so as to have everything in order for the delegates, who start arriving at 12 M. There is always someone to come in to help pass the motion to adjourn.

Dear Jean:—

Washington society is so exciting just now. I went to the theatre last night for the second time this season. So you can see that I am almost rushed to death.

It was thrilling last night all the big newspaper people were there. I went with Mr. Ed. Bettelheim, the editor of "The Cherry Tree," that awfully "clever rag" that only comes out once a year—you know it surely. We got there about twenty minutes early because Edwin, I call him Edwin now, (sometimes Edwin S.) is so used to managing things that he couldn't believe that he didn't have to manage this production. He is some fixer. All the girls just naturally want to work for him.

J. Joseph W. Palmer; P.L.D., Uyx, Abc, came in next; and we had the coziest little chat. The dear creature is so eccentric that he didn't wear a hat, and wanted to paint me right then and there.

Douglas Beatie arrived with two girls and flipped a coin to see which one he would take in with him. He is so prominent from a commercial point of view that he gets two free tickets and the dear generous boy always takes some girl. This time Myrtle Yost won and they both looked so happy. Doug and Myrtle—I mean the other one didn't smile much.

That awfully clever trio, George Pryor, Wickliff Woodard, and Fred Youngman came in together. Yep each one. I wish you could see them, Jean, they are perfect loves. To show how base they were they never stopped talking about the policy that the Hatchet would follow in the spring elections. It was a bit trying on the actors as they were in the front seats.

Sarah French Smith and Henry James came in together but were rather distant. Sarah had on a crimson gown with panniers three feet wide. There is a rumor in smart society.

Virginia Pryor and Lonnelle Davison sat in a box and were the cynosure of all eyes. Since they have gone Phi Mu it is hard for them to get along with any of their suitors so they often come alone and are much admired.

Gretchen Campbell came in with Don Little and Waldo Clark. She treated them with distinct coldness but cast killing looks at the leading man. Every day she lives more and more up to her name of "Crashem." I felt so sorry for the poor boys.

Of course Marian Barker and Foster Hagan were there. Foster made such caustic criticism of the play that a radio man asked him to accept the position of broadcasting play criticisms. Marian is really a bit swagger. They say that she is running Margaret Conlyn a close race as the real editor of the "Hammer." Of course Margaret was there doing a little "checking" on her own account.

Bob McNeil came in late. He looked worried. Betty Booth had come in with another man. Poor boy!

INAUGURATION

If we were inaugurated the twelfth President of this Institution, in Nineteen hundred and twenty-four, we would adopt the nomen of "Silent Bill" and then go out and corral a million dollars, and take out an Endowment Policy on George Washington.

We wouldn't let the public and civic organizations cease having banquets or luncheons until we had talked them out of said million.

And we wouldn't let any Raspberry attempt to stop us in our campaign and our right of free speech.

We would be firm, kind and interested in Student Activities, build up the standard of the University—and in other words we would endeavor to follow in the footsteps of our predecessor.

ACTIVITIES

Mr. Student Activity, this year, has moved his office around the corner, where he can put things on and put them off again.

Since President Harding has died, he has given up wearing the trick golf costume, and is taking up a course in trips to Palm Beach and other health resorts.

Miss Fun, his associate is doing very nicely. She is collecting all the "scraps" and pasting them in a book. She thinks her boss is great and tells everybody so.

Have you ever been in Activity's office? After climbing up a quantity of steps, you find it tucked away on the top floor, rear—surrounded by heaps of last year's CHERRY TREE, Football Sweaters, innumerable cigarette stumps and a group of Student Councilors asking the "whys" about the football hops.

Its a great little game they play, I think they call it Hop on and then Hop off.

GUESS??????

Sunshine? U. S. N. A.? Bobby?
M. U.? Sour Grapes?
Beau Brummel?
Campus? Mac? Gloria?
The Vamp? Rus? Innocence?
Iona Reo? Bee? Dutch?

The chapel seems to be a very versatile place. One day chapel, after chapel, glee club; that night a mixer; team exams, meetings, plays, even a lunch room.

"PAN-HELL", CATS

Special to the University Hammer.

Under the most difficult circumstances the real condition of the local Pan-Hellenic has been brought to light. It is deemed advisable by the Hammer to print the account in full that the students at large might know what goes on in the meetings that wield so great an influence over the lives of the Greek Co-eds. The minutes of the last Pan-Hellenic meeting are printed in full.

Report of Pan-Hellenic Meeting for—

Meeting was called to order by the Vice-President as the president was not through lunch. Delegate appointed by the Vice-President to act as secretary until she should arrive.

Roll call. Nine substitutes—Freshmen—and one regular member.

Meeting open for discussion. Phi Mu Freshman moves to adjourn seconded by Pi Phi. Motion killed by regular member who has instructions and insists upon carrying them out in a proper manner.

President enters and takes charge of the meeting. Girls stop criticizing the clothes of the Vice-President and begin on the clothes of the President.

Calls for business. Regular member following instructions moves that no chapter of less than thirty-two or more than fifty members be considered in awarding the scholarship cup.

Sigma Kappa objected on the grounds of unfairness. Objection sustained and the motion lost.

President calls for other business and a motion to adjourn was made by Chi Omega seconded by Gamma Delta Rho. Motion killed by Phi Sigma who brought up the subject of the Pan-Hellenic dance.

President asked for discussion of date, place, and committees. Date and place settled amicably; committees caused riot.

"Free-for-all" resulted in the calling of the police wagon. In the midst of the battle officers arrived and hustled the belligerents into custody.

As the last delegate was ushered through the door the Alpha Delta Pi delegate moved that the meeting be adjourned. Motion carried.

PUPPY LOVE

Gene Thomas came in about the same time and delayed the performance while he shook hands with everyone in the audience. He isn't running for anything—just keeping in practice.

Willie Thomas was in his seat early but had to change it. Pauline rushed in with Tommy Mount and didn't see Willie. He is such a gallant boy that he got up at once, as soon as Pauline allowed, and insisted that she have his place. It is only in Washington that you find such gallantry.

I must tell you about Maxine Rolle! She wasn't there with Ronald Marquis! They say that their romance has ended entirely and it looks like it. She was stunning and a very fit complement to the blonde good looks of Hillory Tolson. Hillory still looks a bit gun-shy, but very desirable.

Caroline Peterson upset the entire dope box by coming without a section of the Army, Navy, or Marine corps. I saw three reporters go up and interview her about her unprecedented conduct and at least one photographer took her picture for Smart Set.

Ardis Smith and her Katydid occupied the two upper boxes.

I believe those were the most interesting people there of the "literary" set. (A polite remark for publication staff) I must write you soon about the party the president of George Washington is going to let us have. It will be the most daring event of the season in that the hours will be from eight until ten thirty.

Devotedly,

CLARA.

P. S. "Art" Perry has just rushed in from the "heap."

James Davis and Helen Hanford are still going strong. So are Abby Lane and Francis Brown. From other observations, it seems that they are not the only ones, either, but modesty and space forbid further discussion.

We hear that Ed. Wemple is being surveyed for a new suit.

Pauline Long is still herself. We saw her at the Cleves the other day with two handsome blondes.

Dotty Latimer shines in many ways.

It's funny how prosperous the cleaners and pressers are just before a Prom. They did such a rushing business this year that they didn't get Scotty's tux delivered in time and they do say that Frances made him go in his every day garb. What a pity!

We wonder how the Football Hop would have been, if there had been one???

A suggested organization at G. W. U.—"Fleeting Fancy." President, Marian Barker; Vice-President, Betty Bradford; Members—All those who are or have been one of J. Foster Hagan's fancies.

Wonder if Medical School fully appreciates the title Sam Rogers held at Columbian as a charmer?

Isn't it amusing, the airs these former evening students adopt, when they become day students? For instance,—

Do you know the "rubber stamp twins"—Sarah French Smith and Frances Randolph? One states and the other affirms.

Dean Henning has his office on the third floor so that students are too out of breath when they get there to do more than listen to him.

Who will next break the record? Dorothea Stephens graduated after three year's work, at nineteen. Teresa Pyle, with three years' work, takes the palm away from Dorothea being four months younger at graduation.

Gamma Eta Zeta is fast becoming a sorority of shorn locks. Next!

Did you see Leonard McCarty in knickerbockers? We didn't, and we are terribly afraid we missed something good.

We wonder who was winning, the day Pan-Hellenic Association routed Ellen Buhl, three young gentlemen, and a deck of cards from the rear room of 2024 "G"?

NASTY THING!

Sara: "I hate men. Why, do you know I've said 'No' to as many as six in a week?"

Clara: "Canvassers are bothersome, aren't they? I live in the suburbs, too."

It's hard to tell which G. Wilford Pryor will be more successful as—Actor or Editor.

Student—Secretary—Professor: Lives of great men all remind us.

All Leighton Taylor needs is a beard and shock of hair to make him a real Red—He's for the Law Class once and for all.

If Bob Wendt flops out politically, he can turn tinabulations of his oratorical aspirations towards real estate.

P. S. If his shack up the river is a sample we'll buy.

We wonder how Charlie Shepard manages to wake up at the physiological moment with an intelligent (??) question—Well anyway it takes up time.

News Item:—Helen Newman expected a trip to Philly. What Happened, Helen?

Lester Johnson is some cool keen politician: Got himself made BB Manager. Elected at Student Council and President of Interfrat Council all at one swing.

We might mention that our Interfrat Prom was a success and our girl was well pleased.

Query:—Why don't you buy me a bunch of flowers like he buys his girl?

Betty Edwards may be a politician yet???

And Bunny Bond still smiles.

ENDOWMENT BANQUET

Hotel Raleigh, Thursday, January 31st, 1924

It was at this banquet that the Endowment campaign was launched from national standpoint. The student drive had been on for five days and Henry H. James chairman of the student committee announced to the seven hundred and fifty prominent citizens present that the student body had started the campaign with pledges amounting to $63,662. This report of the interest that the students themselves were taking in the work for a Greater George Washington was enthusiastically received and added impetus to spirit of those present.

Various organizations made large pledges, others offered prizes and cups, still others sold candy or card parties and dances the net proceeds of which was turned into the Endowment.

The Washington City drive closed March 1st, with a total of $481,740.07 contributed.

The campaign continues in other cities and it is confident that the Million Dollar goal will be realized by the opening of the next school year.

The next thing he thinks of is the Speedway and the Moon.

But the last thing he thinks of is the Dredge—"It's midnight we better go home."

He kissed her in the garden,

When the moon was shining bright,

But she was a marble statue, and

He was drunk that night.

What did you get in Rhetoric?
Called on.

Mert: Do you know why they had to stop running the "Covered Wagon" in Washington?

Pert: Oh? I suppose they had to get out and grease the wheels.

Wonder if one has to be a humorist to be a member of the Glee Club.

Pearlin: Bill your little mustache reminds me of a football game.

Willin: How's that, eleven on a side?

Pearlin: No it's first down.

Gene: Where did you get that picture of the bathing girl?

John: Mack Sennett.

Gene: He did?

Medico: Fruit doesn't seem to agree with him.

Nurse: Why not cut out his Adams Apple then.

The Washington Weather Man (About to start for his office): I wonder had I better take an umbrella this morning?

She—My lips are the best looking in the University.

He—I'll put mine up against yours any day.

Do You Envy This Man His Success?

FEW professors enjoy the esteem and goodwill that is accorded Professor Updegraff by the students of George Washington. A proven friend and companion, he is one who can put his stuff across anywhere. The success of many undertakings, be it Sorority Tea or Fraternity Smoker, can be traced to his capable generalship and jovial nature, coupled with a flow of spontaneous humor that has endeared him to the hearts of all. But whatever his achievements in other lines, he and Mrs. Updegraff will always be remembered as the musicians who have immortalized the classic "Sweetly the Cuckoo is Calling," and the artists responsible for placing yodeling among the fine arts.

—C.

OUR GEORGE WASHINGTON

(Tune—Battle Hymn of the Republic)

George Washington, George Washington
Our U-ni-ver-si-ty,
For every land, and every clime, you
Mold pos-ter-i-ty;
With service as your slogan and your
Boast ve-rac-i-ty.
Long may you carry on!

CHORUS

Here's to those, who've gone before us;
To our Alma Mater glorious,
And the spirit that's victorious,
At our George Washington.

A nation's heart our campus with
Its monument so high;
We view the landscape o'er and hold,
Communion with the sky;
To find a fairer spot on earth, no
One would hardly try;
For our George Washington.

From Maine to Cal-i-for-ni-a, there
Is no school as great,
While students we're observing how
To guide the Ship o' State,
No royal road to learning can be Found inside the gate
At our George Washington.

The best way for you to discover that Our Clothes—Cleaning, Pressing and Repairing "Service" is different, is to give us an opportunity to demonstrate the fact.

PAN-HANDLE PROM

(Special to the Hammer)

PAN HANDLE PROM went off with the usual bang. Aside from music that was too loud, programs that were too cheap, and the general gathering of non fraternity people it was the best prom that has been given for many years.

While dreaming over in the corner waiting for some one to dash up and claim a dance one saw many odds and ends of flotsam and jestam on the floor. Louis Siebold with his usual ease and grace enlivened the party by telling his partner dirty jokes.

Jack Hayes danced with unusual grace and skill. One girl whispered that he must be losing weight. Nan Darton as usual held the eye of the beholder. What credit there is for the party should be given to her as prime mover in the affair.

Dot Bartley had a sweetly mid victorian timidity that suited her dress of flowered taffeta. Perhaps that was why she affected the manner. Her dear friend Betty Coral wore red. Some law of nature prevented red and pink from being complementary colors.

Members of Gamma Eta Zeta appeared in force to sell petticoats. Some of the less modern young men believed selling such a thing in public verged on the indecent.

Mary Griffith, Flora Lapham, and Betty Jaquette held the long distance staying contest. They were the first ones there and the last to leave. Virginia Pryor was ushered out by Katherine Bryant, no they were not drunk simply ennui.

Aside from the exaggerated dancing that is so much approved by our faculty there was nothing particularly noteworthy except that Mary Louise Lemon and Edna Kilpatrick played twin sister all evening.

PROFS.

(Tune: "Smiles")

Students! Now we know
Just what makes our brain cells grow;
Where we get our education which we value so.

Fellows! We surmise
'Tis each Prof so grave and wise;
For our dullness turns to brightness when our Profs advise.

CHORUS

There are Profs that make us tremble,
There are Profs that make us sad,
There are Profs that make their stuff a jumble,
There are Profs that make the students
mad,
There are Profs that seem so melancholy,
There are Profs that out of school are gay,
But the Profs that we will cast our vote for
Are the Profs that will give us "A."

Students! Now we see
That if 'lumni we would be,
We must swallow and must follow when we don't agree.

Fellows! Don't be sore;
They will show us more and more;
They will lead us and will feed us foxy dope galore.

Frat Item: Say Dave I just saw your hat, my suit, Stan's tie, our collar and Bill's shoes go out to the Prom tonight.

Dale: It always nice to have a "Big Ben" to rely upon.

Recipe for making a lip stick: Eat molasses candy just before he kisses you.

Betty Bigos certainly is original. She ran the Intersorority relay in a chic brown hat.

SENIOR WEAKE

SENIOR WEAKE burst upon the startled public like a bomb. In fact like several of them. Leading the list of events was the soon to be well known Union Vodivill. The curtain rose at 8:05 and the actors departed for parts unknown about 8:07.

Before departing they took with them six dozen eggs—bad, three heads of cabbage, and four carrots, questionable. The Kappa Sigs being a bit slow owing to Jack Hayes took most of it with them.

The sermon on Sunday was attended as usual by the more serious minded elements. Two, of that three, stayed awake.

At the Prom the crowd tried to catch the chairman of the Week but he being nimble eluded the clutched of the angry mob. Bob's last words were, "I let Brownie influence me."

The Pyramid-Faculty baseball game was the usual frost. Because of the difficulties of Prom the Pyramid batteries were disarranged. Score was 10 to 0 favor of the Faculty.

At Commencement, the day that means the world to the graduate, a round dozen stayed in town rather than have their diplomas sent to them. They were a bit afraid of not getting them otherwise.

This closed the festivities and a great time was reported by all.

OUR RABBIT HOLE

A Cafeteria is what the Bunnie Hole is SO—.

A cafeteria is where you go to eat when you have corn beef and cabbage at home.

A cafeteria is where he takes her when almost tho not quite broke and the only place once they're become engaged.

A cafeteria is where you spend all that you have and then do your best to satiate that inner longing with your sweetest smile.

A cafeteria is where you decide, with all the care of making the decision of a lifetime, whether its to be pickles or prunes, bread or rolls.

A cafeteria is where what you get is disguised under another name.

A cafeteria is where you stand and wish that that block-head up in front would stop sampling all the salads.

A cafeteria is where you go in hopes of real food and get—Stung!!

Thus Our Bunnie Hole.

Impressions de Rookianes de la Universidad or A Travelogue in One Act

By H. M. C.

THEADORE LORENZA SMITH, dumb but honest; the eldest son of Farmer Smith of Kokomo, Indiana, in Washington under senatorial patronage, and candidate for registration in G. W. U., visits the institution of his choice.

No majestic edifice of marble rears itself before him, deflecting the golden sunlight, nor in its grandeur and splendor proclaiming itself a fitting seat of learning and advancement. No bronzed tablet outlines in imposing Greek or Latin phraseology the maxim upon which the graduate should mold his life.

No! At his feet he sees yawning the muddy abyss of new excavations. But he realizes that from this orifice will spring the fulfillment of the hopes of "G. W." well-wishers, and the fruition of their efforts, namely, a building worthy of the name of George Washington, and an alma mater of which her sons and daughters may be proud.

However, colistered in the rude halls that form its only shelters is at present, a University complete in itself:—

Columbian College—the self-acknowledged Junior Prom Controllers—by divine right, and "F" Street sheiks by diversion.

Engineering College—from whose midst shall come forth the man who will span the gulf between the world and Mars, including the dredging of the Potomac. Attached to it is the "Comical Society," the Student Chapter, American Student Chesse Emporium, the Arch-detective Club, and a few other students not listed in Sigma Tau.

Teachers College—containing those pedagogues upon whose shoulders rest the welfare of succeeding generations—makers of men and breakers of hearts.

The Law School—with embryo Blackstones and Mansfields budding forth as politicians, but at present undergoing tutelage in politics.

And lastly, the Medical School, aloof, but none the less revered as self-sufficient in their profession as well, as in politics.

Every school must have its radicals, and in G. W. those, not found in the Junior Law Class hovering under Taylor's coat tails, herd together under the cognomen of Free Lance Club, with the Columbian Debating Society as its official mouthpiece, and Sour Grapes for an auxiliary.

There is no want for other papers for the dissemination of the already-known information. They are: "The Hatchet"—A school paper used chiefly by belligerent Debating Councilmen for the public airing of private feuds, and right of "free" (?) speech. "Cherry Tree," a production of individual botanic species, appearing at an indefinite and undeterminable date, the fruit of which is usually questionable. It is the best specimen of a rogues gallery in the University. "The Petticoat," that feminine Tattler, rival-lying in acumen and piquancy its masculine counterpart, "The Raspberry" that unquestioned compendium of journalistic par-excellence issued by "Try Della Epsom-Salts."

The destiny of the Institution is ruled (?) by the Student Council, an acknowledged school of scandal, supplemented by the Law Senate, a select body of conscientious objectors permanently headed by a girl.

Current on the campus is a jargon of impressive automs—Benchers is that term applied to those students who congregate near the door and sleep during class period. Mimes—an organization comprising a picked corps of theatrical aspirants forming a fitting setting for Dorothy Bartley's prowess, and spending most of its time fighting the "Players." Enosinian Society—collection of literary enthusiasts given over largely to exploiting their personal knowledge of dustcovered and forgotten tricialities, sponsored by Girdner. Sphinx—a cult, of the femine species raking for their threefold slogan: Taciturnity, Obduracy and Stocism, in accordance with the epithet, and relaying chiefly upon the dignity and impressiveness of the Pyramid to carry out the scheme.

In toto—the University meets with the approval of our hero. He enrolls and you may see him between classes in the Rabbit Hole, imbibing both the delightful nourishment and soul satisfying gossip to be had there.

The Hotel of the Presidents

No visit to Washington is complete without a stay at The New Willard, which is as much a part of official Washington as the Capitol or White House. It is aptly called the "Second White House" for, since 1848 almost every President has made the present hotel or the old hostelry of the same name his home before proceeding to the Executive Mansion.

THEY SAY:

It was a fortunate thing for Fred Youngman, when he began his Editorial career, that there was "overset" from "The Petticoat" to add snappiness to "The Hatchet."

Betty Booth, well-known star of T. C., admits that there is much prinking going on in the Registrar's office since the advent of Coach Crum.

It is well to keep both hands on the wheel and let the girl hug herself.

That many a fraternity whistle has expedited the motion to adjoin in Monday Evening Sorority meetings.

That Margaret Hatfield is displacing Ellen Buell as the conspicuous college widow.

That clothes do not make the girl, but a rainy day certainly straightens out those Bobbed hair.

Glad "our" girl uses good judgment in that respect—so do many other fellers.

That in union there is trust—Marlin Casey and Louise Smith have a union.

That Delta Theta Phi has inaugurated the ideal way of holding a dance.

The initials of a friend

You will find these letters on many tools by which electricity works. They are on great generators used by electric light and power companies; and on lamps that light millions of homes.

They are on big motors that pull railway trains; and on tiny motors that make hard housework easy.

By such tools electricity dispels the dark and lifts heavy burdens from human shoulders. Hence the letters G-E are more than a trademark. They are an emblem of service—the initials of a friend.

Underwood Portable Give Wings to Words

Many a man finds that a quiet, uninterrupted session with his Underwood Portable at home results in a better arrangement of his work next day, with perhaps an extra hour of leisure at the end. Make the odd minutes count!

Because it is built by the makers of the world's Standard Typewriter; because it embodies features that are exclusively Underwood, this Portable makes it possible for anyone to do Underwood Typewriting anywhere.
